Modern factory with Swedish machinery.

3. Raw materials for the paper industry include timber (pine and fir) and cellulose. The timber is mainly of local origin, but a certain quantity is imported from USSR and Finland, in barter against textiles. Cellulose is imported in large quantities from Sweden and paid for in foreign currency. A small percentage of cellulose is supplied by two local factories at Niedomice (R51/Z95) and Klucze (Q51/V97).

4. In spite of high paper production, there is a severe shortage of paper on the local market, since only 40 percent of the production is for local consumption. The balance is exported to the USSR and to Germany. Local consumption of newsprint, book paper, and cardboard is therefore controlled.
